

DOES YOUR HEALTH FUND CHOOSE YOUR DENTIST?

Health funds do not select dentists on the basis of their training, experience, quality of facilities or ability to provide a wide range of treatments. They select purely on cost to the fund, and profit they can make. Worse still, they're increasing premiums and excluded treatments, whilst reducing rebate benefits, leaving you more out of pocket than if you paid for dental treatments without any health cover. All while dictating who you, the patient, should see.

HOW IMPORTANT IS TRUSTING AND KNOWING WHO IS TREATING YOU?

Is that fair?

Freedom of choice is a right – not a “benefit” that Health Funds can give or take away.

Why you should choose your own dentist:

1. Dealing with someone you know you can trust
2. Full confidence in their ability and integrity to provide you with high quality care and treatments
3. Long-term personal relationship – not just a Health Fund number
4. Importance in knowing your dental history in assessing treatment options
5. Free to choose a practice to suit your location and availability preference
6. Knowing you will be offered all treatment options

Exercise your freedom of choice
